PARTNERS

"If you want to go fast, go alone. If you want to go far, go together" is just a proverb to us. We have a wealth of experience in managing successful partnerships and our amazing team has the skills, and experience needed to develop meaningful partnerships. The journey so far has been made possible - thanks to our remarkable partners at Culture voice.

SPONSORS

An event sponsorship can be defined as a critical source of funding for all kinds of events where companies, nonprofits, and small businesses give a certain amount of cash or incentives, in exchange for both visibility and brand awareness at an event.

Similar to media sponsors, promotional partners are people who are public figures, bloggers or local celebrities who have a lot of followers to help promote your event to their own customer or fan bases.
